On any day of the year it’s a bummer to have your car stolen. The ATPA and Pufferverse’s latest color film highlights the adventures of two young Americans who just don’t seem to get it. Iggy N. Ramos and Wyatt Menow continue to have their vehicles stolen. Their unique expedition of “losing” cars takes them to Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Harrisburg and Lancaster. Share their experiences as they search the state for the vehicles they have “lost” all because they left them running while in the convenience store.
